Who I am – ICT Matters

- ICT Matters was established in 2007 by Elaine Cope, with a focus on enabling community sector organisations to develop and manage their ICT systems and skills.
- Organisations include WIRE: women's information, Gippsland Women's Health Service, DVVic and a number of other small NFP, charitable organisations.
- Small budgets and small staff complements, some as little as 4 EFT.
- They often don't have an IT worker or manager dedicated to the work. Certainly not an IT Department.
- Their work is huge though, offering a diverse range of services and programs to women, women's organisations, and member organisations throughout Victoria.
- The technologies they use or want to use are the same as those in larger organisations but with limited funds and limited resources.
- Sharepoint Services is a free web based solution that runs on Windows Server 2003 , 2008 allowing easy setup of collaborative and information sharing technologies.
- Microsoft Office Sharepoint Server 2007 – is an enterprise version that you can buy that offers greater functionality.
